Dear Friends,

Thank you for your prayers and support. Wow, this year has turned out very different than we ever expected! With stay at home orders and schools shutting down our after school Good News Clubs ended early. We do praise the Lord that kids were able to hear about Jesus and some have come to trust Him as their Savior.

At one club just before the schools closed I was counseling 3 kids who were interested in knowing more about Jesus. The two boys had some good questions but were soon distracted and wanted to get back to the group activities. The girl was very focused and understood that she needed a Savior and called on the Lord that day. God is at work!

It is a battle for their minds and hearts. Another fifth grader I was counseling with had some interesting ideas. When I told him that Jesus is God and had never sinned, he said "Didn't Jesus breathe?" I said, "Yes, He is both God and human." The fifth grader then said, "If Jesus breathed, he was melting the polar ice caps!" To him breathing out CO<sub>2</sub> was a grave sin. He had been picking up a very antihuman message from our society.

There has been an increase in suicides by students in surrounding school districts. Kids have to deal with huge difficulties in a very broken world with many broken families. Now they are getting the message that the world would be better off without them. God loves humans whom He made in His image. One day He will take all the brokenness away and make a new heaven and a new earth that is perfect for all those who trust and love Him.

We have the message of hope that is so needed in these tumultuous times. A child of God does not need to live in fear because our loving Father is the Creator of the universe. He will bring His children safely into His kingdom to spend eternity with Him.

We praise the Lord as we see Him caring for our loved ones and families during these difficult times. He doesn't promise things will be easy but He does promise to be with us and see us through.

God is good,
