

Presenting Christ by all means everywhere!

1. Corinthians 9:22

Right: The September Open-Air sketch-board at the Farmers Market. Every created thing/being has an expiration date... The message motivated folks to think about eternity and the Gospel.

Left: AWANA has started again. The first lesson's topic was 'witnessing'. So, for once, a couple of kids were allowed to fight, pantomime style! The others had to report what they saw. It was a great illustration why we have 4 Gospels and why we can be sure the resurrection of our Messiah really happened, since more than 500 eye witnesses testified to that most important historical fact. Balloon sculptures and a white-board drawing completed the teaching. pray for these children, some of them have a hard time with reading and comprehension.

Right: The first of several baptisms this fall. GOD has answered your prayers. D decided to be baptized and go to treatment. May this result in her getting back her small children once she is done. Her mom is doing well at the college; and another member of the family has signed up for the next semester. When people accept the Savior, their lives really do get changed around for the better! PTL!

Left: A message at the Set Free Program in Riverton. Most of these men have decided to follow the Savior and eagerly study the Bible for 3 months. Pray they will find jobs afterwards.

Right: The beautiful fall colors in the mountains remind us of how fast the times are passing. In September we celebrated Rosh Hashanah, the civil new year on the biblical calendar; which is also Yom Teruah, the day of blowing the shofar crowning the Messiah KING, reminding all that our KING is coming soon!

Winter ministry has already started, including Hebrew lessons. On Monday I teach a beginner's class, and in November an advanced class will start as well. Before that I will fly to the East Coast to visit Ephraim's and Rebekka's families. I keep battling side effects from radiation, including prostatitis (UTI) & GI problems. Arthritis and spinal stenosis with nerve pains needs to be addressed, too. Pray that I will be able to travel. I appreciate your friendship and all the help through prayer and giving. A big THANK YOU!

With kind regards and God's blessings on your life!

Kurt
